SLAP - February 2005 - JEREMY REEVES

::

Where are you from? St Paul, Minnesota, born and raised. Now I'm living in San Francisco.

Who influenced you growing up? Cardiel, Ronnie Creager, Tom Penny, lots of people.

Who do you like these days? Danny Fuenzalida, Brian Heck, Steve Nesser, Pete The Ox.

What's the longest Greyhound bus ride you've been on? Three-day trip, three full days from Minnesota to California.

What's the craziest thing you've seen in your life? You getting hit in the head with a Maglite at an art show.

What's the worst slam you've seen in person? Adam Dyet, back Smith. He broke his wrist and fractured his pelvis on an 18-stair rail.

What's the longest you have been away from home? Six months on your floor.

Where is your favorite place that you've skated this far in your life? Denver or Vancouver.

Who's coming up in Minnesota? Nate Compher, Elijah Collard, Jamiel Nowparvar, Brian Heck for sure, CJ Tamborino.

Favorite Minneapolis spot? Northrop Auditorium, but you go to jail there now. Out here it's Fort Miley.

Where do you get your free crap? Nike gives me shoes, Venture trucks, City skateboards, Lucky bearings, Hubba wheels, Unified clothing, Fobia skateshop.

Who would you like to thank? Joe and Dan at Fobia, Steve Nesser, Justin Williams, Tony Vitello, Hunter at Nike, Kevin at Unified, all the photographers I've shot photos with, friends and family.
